III. WRITING (10 POINTS)

Read this extract from an article about teenagers.

Many teenagers today do not listen to adults' advice, do not think about the consequences of their actions and do not have a sense of responsibility.

Write a letter to the editor saying whether you agree or disagree with this opinion. Give reasons and examples to support your point of view.

Dear Editor,

I've read an extract from an article which says that teenagers these days are hard to handle because of the fact that they do not listen to adults, do not think about the consequences of their actions and do not have a sense of responsibility. And I totally agree because of many reasons: ... First of all, technology has made teenagers obsessed, all they do is chatting, watching movies and much more. So, when their parents try to talk with them, they say that they are busy and walk away. Plus that some parents work a lot, both of them, they do not look after their children very well. Thus, when it is time to teach them how to listen and become responsible they don't, when finally they try to make them listen it is too late, they find out that their children are addicted to drugs sometimes. Yet, there is always hope. ... So, Parents should teach their children from when they are young, teach them to obey the parents and adults and punish them when they don't. That's how you raise a good boy, in my opinion.

Sincerely, a friend.
